

Assistant Vicar of St Mark
Church of Uganda
Kamuli,
Miriam
Naomi Naigwe prays for the graduands.

Trinity Junior Kamuli pupils graduate

BY SAM CALEB OPIO

It was wholesome excitement, jubilation and merry-making at Trinity Junior School Kamuli Nursery graduation. Clad in sky blue attires, the graduands marched to the brass band around Kamuli Municipality to the new campus at Quadrangul, where they were showered with sweets, chocolates and a graduation cake.

"You have been our best and deserve the best as we transit you to the primary section. Congratulations for you have all been promoted to Primary One and admitted to Trinity Junior Primary School," Mr Laston Sempa, the school director announced.

Mr Sempa also revealed that next year, the nursery section will have three streams, a special diet and programmes so parents should expect the best treatment for their children.

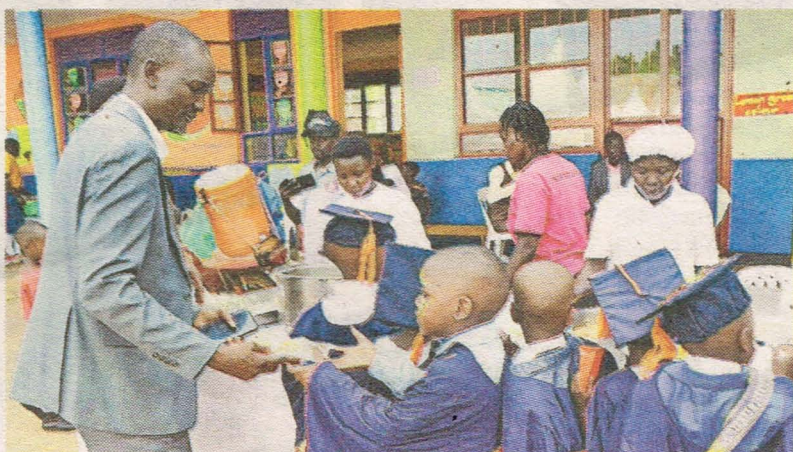

Rev Miriam Naomi Naigwe, the assistant Vicar of St Mark Kamuli, urged parents to be exemplary, engage with the children and give them encouragement.

"As parents, you have to set good examples for your children right from dress code, discipline and family values. Remember to engage regularly with your child for effective and closer communication but above all, always appreciate every little thing done as an achievement," the Reverend tipped.

Centenary Bank Kamuli Branch and Oasis Book project donated the graduation cake and an assortment of gifts to the graduands, urging parents to keep the children reading during holidays.

Graduands get ready to present an item thanking parents and teachers.

Mr Denis Onyango leads graduands to share cake at the function.

A teacher assists some of the graduands in prayer.