Schools under the Kampala Right to Play programme converged at Kyambogo Primary School grounds to showcase different items during the Tusobola environmental expo to create awareness on the need to save the environment from degradation.

The expo themed Reuse, Reduce and Recycle attracted nine schools with pupils showcasing skills in Art and Design, farming, modelling, Music Dance and Drama, among other things at the fun-packed event.

The schools included, Shimoni Demonstration P/S, St Paul Banda P/S, Nobles P/S, Naguru Katale P/S, St

Jude Naguru P/S, Kyambogo P/S, East Kololo P/S, Naguru Katale P/S, Mbuya Church of Uganda P/s and Paul's Children P/S.

The Right to Play Project coordinator, implementing Tusobola project in Kampala, Ms Safina Namusoke revealed that the Tusobola environmental expo seeks to raise awareness on the need for environmental protection.

The head teacher Kyambogo P/S, Mr Joshua Waiswa Kibedi, said the expo is not only a space for children to showcase their talents but also to pass on knowledge to them to sensitise their communities about the need to save the environment.

Some of the pupils display different designs made out of plastics and used boxes.

Learners modelled in outfits made from recycled material.

Fashion display at the event was at its best during the day.

The exhibition also had music and dance interludes.
