

Medinah Islamic holds Top Class graduation

NEXT LEVEL: The Top Class graduation at Medinah Islamic was fun filled with a number of performances from the pupils.

CONTINUED ON P.7>>

» Your letters » Birthday messages » Success stories » Puzzles

A Top Class representative delivers a speech to the parents and fellow learners.

One of the graduands receives a certificate during the graduation.

Medinah Islamic holds Top Class graduation

BY NOELINE NABUKENYA

Children of Top Class at Medinah Islamic Junior School Nsangi Katereke and Kaggaba Nakirebe campuses were last year transitioned to join primary level, following a graduation ceremony. At least 67 children graduated after three years of nursery training. Ms Halima Nassuna, the class teacher of Nakirebe Campus, said their children study both secular and theological subjects to ensure pupils are instilled with discipline and knowledge of the Islamic principles.

"They can count, write, read sounds and are also ready for primary since Allah enabled them to complete yasarna in their first education levels," she said.

She encouraged them to always put Allah first in whatever they do, respect every person, pray five times a day, and not listen to music.

Ms Nassuna also urged them to use the holiday appropriately by completing their holiday package, maintain Islamic dressing code and engage in domestic work.

Ms Salma Bukenya, the Top Class teacher of Nsangi-Katereke Campus, reflected on their early days.

"You have used these hands to paint masterpieces and help friends who have fallen. We are so proud of the people you are becoming."

Learners, teachers and visitors cut a cake to mark the promotion of Top Class pupils to primary level. PHOTOS/NOELINE NABUKENYA

Pupils dance as they assume the stage.

Children during a performance.