Nursery pupils of Kasana Junior Primary School in Masaka had an education tour to have exposure to what they have been learning about in class. The children visited places such as Planet Water Park, UBC Radio station and TV, Atis Biscuit and ABC companies.

Mr Lawrence Kato, the school director of studies at said tours motivate learning and make it more enjoyable.

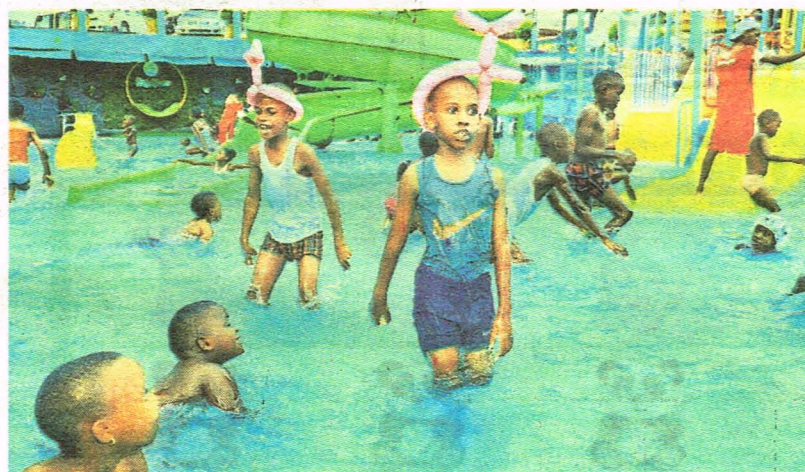

"Learning is done in class, once children move out it becomes more lively and learners tend to grasp so fast because they are learning things they can see other than learning somethings in abstract," he said.

As part of the tour, learners visited Planet Water Park in Kansanga for recreation, where they enjoyed activities such as swimming as they took memorable photos.

Mr Kato explained that in every school tour, they ensure to go to places where they can get souvenirs that learners can take back to their parents as an appreciation gift.

The day ended with photo moments and children asking questions to the different guides of the day.

The lunch break gave learners time to re-energise before embarking on more adventures.
