

How are you contributing to the local tech industry?

Elvis Kadama, Techpreneur

I established an agritech social business in 2022 called Essymart that provides an e-commerce platform which extends technology to farmers and it enables them access quality inputs from the platform.

Zacharia Nangai, Techpreneur

I established Mcrowest, an e-commerce platform working with farmers in Mbale, Soroti and Bukedi region serving 12,000 farmers helping them to get inputs, advisory services, markets and technology.

Jun Shiomitsu,
JICA Taskforce

We have an annual Japanese technology conference where we bring together innovators to showcase their technology. But it will be hard for Uganda to present the technology as ICT projects.

Andrew Ruyoka,
Commissioner, UICT

Uganda Institute of Information, Communication Technology and JICA have an ICT industry promotion project to promote entrepreneurs with ICT products that can be exported mainly to Japan.
