It was a joyous moment as Mbarara Junior School celebrated last year's PLE success.

The celebrations held on February 27, started with the school brass band leading the guests around the school to witness some of the developments it has registered for years including growth of infrastructure, bakery, water harvesting, banana plantations and bio gas project.

The guests later attended a thanksgiving service at St James Cathedral, Ruharo, which is a few metres from the school.

The main celebrant, Bishop of Ankole diocese Rt Rev Sheldon

Mwesigwa, in his message, emphasised spirituality and discipline as key in the success of learners.

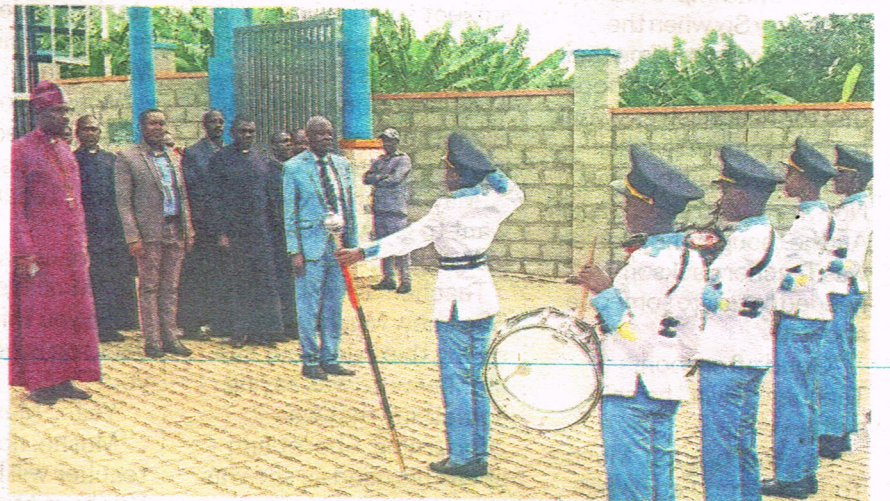

The Bishop challenged parents and schools to commit the young people to the love of God before cautioning them to remain alert on the type of people who counsel, guide and offer support to children noting some may have ill motives.

Officiating at the ceremony the commissioner in charge of for RDCs in western Uganda, Lt Col James Mwesigye, noted a significant improvement in government schools and appealed to the public for support and trust in them.

Out of the 351 candidates who sat for the exams last year, 225 came in division one and the rest in division two.

The brigade honoured former candidates for their outstanding performance in PLE.
