

The school honored several students, academic staff and non academic staff, who excelled in different areas.

BY STEPHEN OTAGE

Greenhill Schools has rewarded more than 650 employees and students, excelling in different areas through the Gladys Wambuzi Education Scholarship Trust Fund, which was started in memory of the first headteacher and board chairperson of the school.

Speaking at the just concluded Greenhill academy 32nd anniversary celebrations, Mr Robert Waggwa Nsibirwa, the current chairperson of Greenhill Holdings company said they had established the Gladys Wambuzi Education Scholarship Trust fund in memory of the schools' first head, to motivate staff and students who excel in various fields.

"Whenever we have a dedication service and thanks giving, the school makes collections and we use that money for the scholarships. We are even thinking of using part of the profits to grow the scholarship," he said.

He explained that the school looks at the whole spectrum of excellence in all fields including an award for ubuntu, integrity, including sports. So far 650 people have benefited from the scholarship, including those who have completed studies and excelled, even when they have left the school.

School's rector Veronica Maraka said they have been conducting thanksgiving ceremonies for 32 years, to celebrate their own existence, expansion of the school to Buwate in Wakiso, the opening of the

Some of the employees of Greenhill Schools rewarded for excelling in different areas in 2025 in Kampala last week. The initiative was sponsored by the Gladys Wambuzi Education Scholarship Trust Fund. PHOTOS/STEPHEN OTAGE international campus at Kansanga, as well as the nursery section.

Greenhill students, employees eat big from Wambuzi education fund

During the latest celebration, she acknowledged the trust of parents, some of whom are now taking their grandchildren to the same school.

The school honored several students, academic staff and non academic staff, who excelled in different areas last year, received cash and non cash prizes.

Uganda Certificate of Education Award were presented by Miss Olivia Bulyaba (left).

JRM Kasibante Award was presented by Ms Lydia Efata, the Greenhill Services Manager (2nd left).

UACE Students Award was presented by Mr Philip Ssembugaya (left), the Board Member Board of Governance- Greenhill Academy Secondary Kibuli.

Kitchen and Environment Award was presented to the staff by Ms Miriam SMW Kawuma, the Group Chief Executive Officer for Greenhill Holding (3rd right).